There is good feed on the property which was subdivided from a larger family held grazing property, great for horses or even a couple of beasties. There are an abundance of exotic fruit and nut trees on the property including citrus, carambola, lychee, jaboticaba, black sapote, macadamia, pecan and mango to name just a few.

The block slopes gently away from the road with a northerly aspect ideal for season round fruit and vegetable growing, towards the bottom 1/4 of the block the slope increases towards the creek with pump and large established native trees. There is ample provision for water here with each of the tanks reticulated to the central house supply to ensure you don't run out.

Quality, small acreage properties so close to town are a very popular commodity so make the most of your opportunity for a Sneak Peek before this hits the open market. Our owners are ready to retire and move to the next chapter of their lives.
